TULLOCH CHARGES.

The Statement Made by Former Cashier Dissected by Postmaster-General Payne.

HE ASKS FOR AN EXPLANATION.

The Charge Against the Auditor and the Controller is Regarded as the Most Serious.

Mr. Payne Points Out a Difference Which Exists Between Charges of Irregularities and of Actual Violation of Law.

Washington, May 19.—Postmaster General Payne Monday sent letters to the controller of the treasury, the auditor of the post office department and other officers of the department calling their attention to the statements made by former Cashier Tulloch in his communication of last Saturday. The letters ask for an explanation or further information that might throw light on the subject.

The formal charges of Mr. Tulloch, Mr. Payne said, had been dissected and matter relating to particular branches of the service had been referred to the bureaus having jurisdiction. Mr. Payne Monday night said that he regarded the charge against the auditor and the controller as the most serious of the allegations. He said that if those officers "allowed improper accounts to be audited or suppressed, what might be called 'pay dirt' had been found." The charges, he said, impugned their good faith and integrity.

Mr. Payne pointed out a difference which existed between charges of irregularity and of actual violation of law. "A government official," he said, "may buy something which he had no authority to purchase and no authority to pay for, but the government gets the use of the article nevertheless. Irregularities do not necessarily mean anything unlawful. The department may pay out of the wrong fund either by accident or design, yet that need not be unlawful."

He said in this connection that the charge regarding the disallowance by the controller of between $30,000 and $40,000 was a charge of irregularity and not of unlawfulness and he understood that practically all of this sum had been allowed.

"It is unfair," he suggested, "to make the public believe that the government has been cheated out of such an amount of money when it was only a question of irregularity in accounting."

Discussing Mr. Tulloch's references to the Porto Rican service, Mr. Payne suggested that Mr. Tulloch was not charged with responsibility for the Porto Rican establishment and that the Porto Rican establishment had no more to do with the Washington office than the Chicago office, for instance, except in name, which was for convenience in administration. He said it was a physical impossibility for Mr. Tulloch to know whether the employees at Camp Alger, or in Porto Rico, or in the department, were performing the labor for which they were paid.

"Mr. Tulloch as cashier," he said, "did not know what work any set of clerks was doing; only the postmaster general, the assistant postmaster general or those who had charge of that part of the work would know. Some of these allegations that no work was performed are now under investigation. If any one has drawn money without doing any service, we will try to get the money back."

"The responsible party is the postmaster of Washington, who should have known whether they were doing any work. I suppose the postmaster involved is the one now dead, Mr. Willett."

Speaking generally, the postmaster general said the original letters of the officials against whom Mr. Tulloch made accusations were necessarily general in tenor, but now that the Tulloch letter furnishes something more definite in the way of charges they will have an opportunity to make more definite replies.

IT IS UP TO US TO HUSTLE.

Mason County Has Subscribed Only a Portion of Her Share Towards Kentucky's Representation at the World's Fair.

Had the last Legislature made an appropriation of $100,000 for Kentucky's representation at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition to be held in St. Louis next year, Mason County would have had to pay $2,000 of this amount. Up to this time she has contributed $638. Our Fiscal Court has made an appropriation of $500, the Bank of Maysville subscribed $100, G. W. Rogers & Co., $15, and the remainder is credited to the sale of souvenir buttons.

This leaves $1,362 to come from our county. Let's begin to hustle and raise this sum, so it cannot be said of our county that she failed to subscribe her share to the fund which will give Kentucky the greatest advertisement in the history of the union. Our people are progressive and certainly want to join hands with other counties in giving to the State the representation she must have at this greatest of all world's fairs if she is to keep step with the march of twentieth century prosperity.

The Kentucky Exhibit Association, which is raising the $100,000 fund has no elements of selfishness in its make-up, for its members are giving freely of their time and money to make the undertaking a success, there being no salaried commissioners as would have been the case under a legislative appropriation. Certainly our people realize that no county has more to show at the fair than has ours.

Among the counties already represented on the subscription books of the Kentucky Exhibit Association are Ballard, Barren, Bell, Boone, Boyd, Boyle, Bracken, Breckenridge, Campbell, Carroll, Clark, Crittenden, Fayette, Franklin, Grant, Henderson, Hopkins, Hickman, Jefferson, Jessamine, Johnson, Kenton, Laurel, Lawrence, Livingston, Lyon, McCracken, Madison, Marion, Mason, Montgomery, Muhlenberg, Nicholas, Spencer, Trigg, Union, Warren, Whitley. Few of these counties have contributed sums equal to their apportionment under a State appropriation, but their citizens are at work and they will make a good showing. Boyd has raised $905; Barren, $150; Bell, $158; Carroll, $202.40; Crittenden, $200; Fayette, $2,048; Hopkins, $1,000; Kenton, $1,550; Laurel, $100; Lawrence, $150; Livingston, $100; Montgomery, $300; Muhlenberg, $726; Whitley, $225. Louisville alone has subscribed about $12,000 and will raise several thousand more.

As we say in the headlines, "It's up to us!" and no mistake.

The association has sent us a number of subscription blanks and we will receive contributions to the fund at our office until further notice. Any member of the association in this county will also perform a similar service. Following is a list of the association's members in Mason County, and in this connection it should be borne in mind that every subscriber to the fund, no matter how small his contribution, becomes a member by subscribing: Garrett S. Wall, John Duley, H. C. Curran, H. E. Pogue, C. B. Poyntz, Dr. J. M. Frazee, J. E. Boulden, E. A. Robinson, Maysville; J. F. Walton, Germantown; Otto G. Callahan, Helena; S. H. Mitchell, Mayslick.

MORAN VS. VICROY.

Opinion of Court of Appeals Affirming the Above Case Taken Up From Mason County.

In affirming the above suit the Court of Appeals says:

This was an action brought by appellant against appellee to recover damages for malicious shooting and wounding. A verdict and judgment resulted in favor of appellee and appellant has prosecuted this appeal, urging that the court erred in admitting threats of appellant against appellee running back several years; also erred in refusing an instruction offered by him.

Held—That there was no error in admitting the evidence of threats, as the rule is settled that upon the issue of self-defense where there is evidence conducing to show that the plaintiff was the aggressor, and made the first hostile demonstration against the defendant, evidence of previous threats and hostile demonstration by him against defendant is always competent as tending to show that defendant was in peril at the time he shot and that the plaintiff began the difficulty and his motive.

The instruction offered by appellant and refused by the court that the defendant could only shoot if he had no apparently safe means of escape from said impending danger was properly refused.

The instructions given properly presented the law of the case and the verdict will not be disturbed.

J. L. Chamberlain, W. D. Cochran, E. L. Worthington for appellant; Wesley Vicroy for appellee.

The 873 religious papers in the United States have 3,521,530 circulation.

Mrs. Elma J. Pangburn, widow of Dr. Pangburn, has sold her residence on south side of Second street, Sixth ward, to Dr. Walter Matthews, Jr., for $1,500 cash.

The dry weather has caused the ground to become so hard that many farmers have been compelled to suspend all further work until it rains. Some of them have not finished plowing, and much of the corn crop remains to be planted.

Mrs. Hannah Myers, formerly of this city, died at her home in Cincinnati Sunday night of consumption, after an illness of about seven months. Deceased was thirty-five years old and is survived by her husband and five children. Mrs. Myers was a sister of Mrs. Kate Britton, of this city.

Wm. Crawford, forty, single, a farmer living near West Union, walked off the wharboat at Manchester Monday morning and was drowned. He is said to have been demented for a year, and had threatened suicide. The body was recovered by dragging the river. His eyeglasses were still on him. Crawford was the son of Captain James Crawford, a deceased rich tobacco raiser.

Rev. E. L. Shepherd conferred a pleasure on Maysville church-goers when he introduced Rev. Mr. Mosher, a talented minister of the Kentucky Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church. An increasing audience listened to the intensely religious tone and polished style of the speaker. Coming from religious duties in Cincinnati, Mr. Mosher has for five years been in the Kentucky Conference.

At the examination of teachers at Barbourville it developed that a number of the applicants for certificates had been supplied in advance with the question lists, paying therefor $12 to $14 each. A young man accused of making the sales has left town. A similar state of affairs was discovered at Grayson Saturday, and warrants for several persons have been issued. It is said that men of some prominence will be implicated.

John C. McAtee, of Bracken County, filed suit in the Mason Circuit Court Monday against County Clerk Wood and his sureties for $2,500 damages. The ground of his complaint is that Mr. Wood's Deputy, Mr. A. F. Wood, on Feb. 14th last issued a license to plaintiff's daughter, Phoebe Dale McAtee, to marry W. H. Gordley, Phoebe being at that time only seventeen years old, so her father alleges. Those who saw Miss McAtee say she looked to be nearer twenty-five years old than seventeen. She and Gordley claimed she was twenty-two. Mr. Wood and his Deputies have made it a rule never to issue any couple a license when they have any doubt as to the age of the applicants. In a number of instances couples have had to go elsewhere for the coveted papers.

IMPORTANT NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

Henry Watterson's Courier-Journal Announces a New Policy.

During three decades the Louisville Courier-Journal has stood unalterably and conspicuously before the public as the representative of the great commonality of the people against both the robber baron, seeking through the accretion of ill-got money to steal away the people's liberty by stealing away their franchise rights, and the ready-tool of the robber baron, the bandit politician, masquerading as a statesman and a patriot the better to serve the ends of his master. In fulfilling this high function it has sometimes had to go fast and sometimes to go slow, sometimes to cry "onward," and sometimes to cry "halt," sometimes to drive at the root of things, and sometimes to drive ahead; but never changing the direction of its movement and always true to the underlying principle of its being, expressed by the simple demand for "the greatest good to the greatest number."

With the advent of the new year, that is on the first of January, 1903, the Courier-Journal began a campaign from which it looks for commanding results, and the better to reach the objects it has before it, the twice-a-week edition was changed to a once-a-week edition, returning to the old Weekly Courier-Journal, which for a quarter of a century was literally a political bible to millions of Americans who knew they could trust both its prescience and its disinterestedness.

The new Weekly Courier-Journal is modern in every respect, and is a paper for the home. It is issued every Wednesday, and its ten or twelve eight-column pages are filled with the best work of the best writers. The price of the paper is $1 a year in advance, and it is well worth it.

By a special arrangement with the publishers of the Courier-Journal you can get that paper and the WEEKLY BULLETIN one year for only $2.

IN SELF-DEFENSE.

Ex-Lieut. Gov. Clay Knoblock, of Louisiana, Shot and Killed by a Barber.

TRAGEDY OCCURED IN THIBODEAUX

Knoblock Drew His Revolver First But Owing to Some Trouble it Failed to Explode.

His Adversary Pulled a Gun and Shot Former Lieutenant Governor Five Times—Each Wound Would Have Proved Fatal.

Thibodeaux, La., May 19.—A shooting affray which resulted in the death of ex-Lieut. Gov. Clay Knoblock occurred early Monday morning on Main street. The affair created intense excitement. The shooting was done by James Garault, a well-known barber, and took place at 7:30 in a section of Main street usually crowded. The hour was early, however, and not many people were on the street. Several witnesses of the shooting were found but they refused to talk further than to say that Garault shot in self-defense. The two men were seen talking together when suddenly ex-Lieut. Gov. Knoblock drew his revolver. It seems that he experienced some trouble with the weapon and it failed to explode. Meantime Garault whipped out his revolver and opened fire on his adversary.

That his aim was true was established by the autopsy held by the coroner, who found five wounds in the dead man's body. Either of the wounds would have proved fatal. Ex-Lieut. Gov. Knoblock, it is understood, did not get a chance to use his revolver.

Garault surrendered to the authorities immediately but it is believed he will be allowed bond.

Henry Clay Knoblock was a native of LaFolche parish. He served as lieutenant governor under Gov. Samuel D. McEnery, now United States senator. He has been practicing law at Thibodeaux, where he lived with his wife. He is survived by her and one son, Earle, who is engaged in business in New Orleans.

Johnson, a colored preacher, in his suit against the Pullman Co. Johnson sued because he was refused a seat in a parlor car while en route from Richmond to Washington. The suit was brought under the federal act of March, 1875, which Judge Kirkpatrick said had been declared unconstitutional. This act related to interstate commerce.

Anderson was arrested and died later in his cell presumably from poison.

An interesting article is published elsewhere in this issue on the subject of "dust and disease," impressing upon all the importance not only of clean streets, but also the importance of having them systematically sprinkled during the dry weather. In the business center of the city the streets are as a rule kept pretty well sprinkled, but from the L. and N. station to the car barn and in the lower end of the city Second and Bridge street resemble more a country pike now than they do the main thoroughfare of the city. With an accumulation of dust on a street, it requires more sprinkling and oftener to keep the street in proper condition for travel, and the authorities should see that at least the main thoroughfares of the city should be kept as clean as possible at all times. With the air filled with dust, as can be seen any day now along East Second street, the city doesn't present a very inviting appearance to the guests within our gates or to anyone seeking a new home. A committee from the Board of Trade is now trying to arrange for a systematic sprinkling of the streets this summer, but the first thing necessary is to have the streets cleaned as far as possible of the accumulation of dust. The cost of sprinkling will then be much less, because it will require less water and less time. It is to be hoped the city authorities will gladly cooperate with the Board in this matter.

MONOPOLY IS KING.

At the annual dinner of the Brooklyn Democratic Club to commemorate the anniversary of the birth of James Monroe, fifth President of the United States, Hon. Charles A. Towne, of Minnesota, responded to the toast, "The Democracy of the West," saying in part:

A greater danger threatens than any menace to the Monroe doctrine. That doctrine applies to the outer boundaries of liberty. The assault of the Republican party is against the citadel itself. Of what avail to mankind to preserve for a while the soil of South and Central America from the burden of monarchical systems, if meanwhile we are to surrender the government of the United States to the practice of absolutism? Why vindicate to the people of neighboring republics the right to be undisturbed in the regulation of their own affairs unless we propose also to restore to American citizenship its original prerogative? Kings may as well rule in Spanish America if legalized monopoly is to be king in this great republic.

This, fellow-citizens, as it seems to me, is clearly enough the duty and the opportunity of the Democratic party now, and in the campaign of 1904, to restore the ancient landmarks of the Constitution, to wrest from private interest the control of the government and bring the people to their own again. Speaking for myself, as a man who advocated before hundreds of thousands of citizens in many States the principles of the Democratic platforms of 1896 and 1900, and who believed in those principles then and believes in them now, as applicable to the same conditions, I am frank to declare my conviction that both justice and expediency demand that no greater test of a man's Democracy should be required to-day than his belief in and readiness to labor for the principles that are at stake to-day.

The biggest towboats afloat, the Sprague and Joseph B. Williams, are laid up at Louisville waiting for a rise.

There is quite a fleet of towboats at Pittsburg ready to bring out coal tows on the first rise, which may come within a week, and may hold off until next fall. There has been a good deal of guessing in regard to the date of the first rise, and in regard to this the guessing of one is about as good as that of another. According to the old adage all signs fail in dry weather.

Put on Your Thinking Cap!

Take up the question of P. N. Corsets. Do you think they could have attained such enormous success if they had not possessed every merit claimed for them? Do you think thousands of women would wear them if there was a better dollar corset in the market? Do you think the sales of P. N. Corsets would have grown so wonderfully and rapidly, if women were not so enthusiastic about them, buying them repeatedly and urging their friends to do so? Do you think dozens of P. N. Corsets could be sold by us every week, if anything could be said against them? They are unequalled for all figures, as we have models to suit the stout, the plump, the slender, the lean. We have corsets for more than a dollar and less than a dollar, but one dollar marks the popular price in this locality and the P. N. leads the van.

DUST AND DISEASE.

The Latter Often Arises Out of the Former.

Systematic Sprinkling and Flushing of Streets One of the Demands of the Hour.

"Dust and disease" has become a phrase which we accept because of the demonstration that the latter often arises out of the former. If we could abolish dust, many diseases would disappear," says a writer on this question. Continuing he adds: "Of the universal diffusion of dust nothing need be said. We only escape contact with it if we go to the mountain tops or flush our lungs with the air of the open sea. When we enter the abodes of men and when we breathe the air of cities, our invasion by dust particles is full and complete. In the saloons of ships at sea sixty microbes occurred in a cubic meter of air. In old houses in Paris the quantity found was 79,000 and over. In our great centers of population we have to face a perpetual bombardment by dust particles of all species. Sweeping arrangements of ordinary kind only remove them from one place to another. There is displacement of dust, but no destruction. Even the corners of our rooms are harbors of refuge for dust atoms. That is why in hospitals there are no angles in the walls, but rounded surfaces instead. The plan of the housewife who uses damp tea leaves preparatory to sweeping is a concession to an old idea that has ample justification at its back, for so long as dust is kept wetted it is not dangerous in so far as its dissemination into the air is concerned, for we do not swallow and breathe it.

"There is no doubt that we require the inauguration of a new system of treating dust. Recent experiments conducted abroad should serve as a model for enterprising town councilors anxious to benefit the race by the reduction of dust and disease. It is found that flushing the streets is a vastly superior process in respect of its efficiency to sweeping them in what is called the dry method. To wet dust is to render it innocuous first of all, and to sweep it away by the aid of the hydrant is to remove it and to send it forth from the bounds of cities with the sewage.

"Especially in summer should flushing be carried out. It is then that dirt dries and becomes dust. It is then also that we get food tainted, and especially milk, with the result that the little children die off in thousands from infantile cholera, due to the tainting of their food."

A more systematic plan for street sprinkling should be devised, and it is suggested that the Board of Trade take hold of the matter and see what can be done. Enough water is thrown on our streets to sprinkle them from one end of town to the other, but it is thrown only in spots.

The Frank Owens Hardware Company are so accustomed to doing things on an extensive scale that it occasions no surprise to learn of their latest trading exploit. They recently bought the entire line of samples of one of the largest manufacturers of fine hammocks in the United States, the lot being closed out at a price that permits their sale at retail at former wholesale figures. Some of these goods can truly be pronounced "perfect dreams," a pair of them in particular being especially elaborate, either one of which would make an appropriate Christmas gift for the poor printer.

That's What

THEY ALL SAY!

Said a gentleman who bought one of our Wool Crash Coat and Pants yesterday, "I did not expect to find as perfect fitting garment ready made as these." Upon telling him the price of the Suit he inquired if the material was all wool. It was quite difficult to make him believe it was on account of the low price we sell them for. No house in the State shows as elegant line of crashes as we do. We want you to see them.

The weather is getting right for our soft comfort giving Shirt. Try our "Faultless;" you commit a fault if you don't. It's the best dollar shirt in the world. Were there a better we would not have these. THE BEST FOR OUR PATRONS IS OUR SOLE AIM.

OUR CLOTHING DEPARTMENT IS BECOMING JEALOUS OF OUR SHOE DEPARTMENT.

We put Shoes in our store for a side issue. We wanted Maysville to have the reputation of selling as good Shoes as she sells Clothing. Like our Clothing we bought the "best," consequence, we are running away with the "good shoe trade" of the county and city. Our Douglas $3 and $3.50 Shoes are warranted to give satisfaction or the money back. No risk in buying Shoes here.

Mistakes

Of other people are danger signals to the wise. Every time a mistake is made somebody learns something. In shoe buying it is important to know about your purchase—that your money is getting for you its full measure of quality.

You Make a Big Mistake

when you buy "real cheap" things—shoes in particular. As a rule, the less you pay the more it costs in the long run.

Observe, please, that we do not boast of "cheap" prices, and still, quality considered, we sell dependable footwear at figures that will interest careful buyers.

Wool Crash Coats

and Trousers and Belt to Match?

Well, I should say I do make them, and of the genuine all wool crash and no mistake.

Make them?

Yes, and to your measure, for about the same price you pay for the inferior article, both in material and workmanship; and all the annoyance of alterations avoided, such as tightening or loosening waist and shortening or lengthening legs of trousers, shortening or lengthening sleeves of coats.

The minute you step into garments I make for you, your trouble is over; you walk away comfortable and happy. Don't you think it is worth a trifle more for such luxury?

These are only part of the conveniences that are told of clothing made to your measure. If you have never tried, DO SO NOW. Have your measure taken and a suit made by
